UCSF
University of California
San Francisco

Open Position:
Health Sciences Assistant/Associate/Full Professor Acute Care Pediatric and/or Primary Care Pediatric Nurse Practitioner

UCSF School of Nursing is a top ranked master's program dedicated to providing training future clinicians working with California's diverse population. The UCSF Family Health Care Nursing Department is seeking an Assistant/Associate/Full professor for full and/or part time faculty positions in the Acute Care or Primary Care Pediatric Nurse Practitioner specialties. Major responsibilities include: teaching advanced practice nursing students in the classroom and clinical setting with a focus on acute care, chronic, and primary care pediatrics; supervising and/or scheduling students in the clinical environment for clinical rotations; and mentoring students. Clinical practice opportunities may be available as a percentage of the position. An opportunity for the faculty to serve as Specialty Coordinator for the Acute Care Pediatric Nurse Practitioner is also available.

Required Qualifications

- Master's and/or Doctoral degree in Nursing
- Active Registered Nurse, Nurse Practitioner, and Nurse Practitioner Furnishing license issued by the California BRN, or eligibility
- National Certification as a Pediatric Nurse Practitioner in Acute Care and/or Primary Care
- 2 or more years of clinical experience as an advanced practice nurse in pediatric acute care, chronic/specialty care, and/or primary care settings

Desired Qualifications

- Clinical experience working with underserved and diverse pediatric populations
- Clinical experience working in interprofessional pediatric team-based care
- Two or more years of classroom and/or clinical teaching experience with advanced practice nursing students at a graduate level
- Experience with hybrid and/or online teaching
- Evidence of strong leadership skills in clinical and/or academic settings
- Academic preparation in curriculum development, teaching methodologies, and supervised teaching residency/practicum
- Proficient user of Microsoft Office suite, Adobe products, and electronic health record systems
- Multilingual skills, preferred languages: Spanish and Chinese languages

For more information and to apply, please go to our website:
https://aprecruit.ucsf.edu/JPF02810.

Contact Mary Lynch, MS, MPH, RN, NP, FAAN at Mary.Lynch@ucsf.edu for questions.